Our Partner University

University of Wales
Trinity Saint David

The University of Wales Trinity Saint David (UWTSD)'s 1828 Royal Charter is the oldest in England and Wales after the universities of Oxford and Cambridge. HRH The Prince of Wales is the University's Patron.

UWTSD's main campuses are situated in Swansea, Lampeter and Carmarthen, as well as the Wales International Academy of Voice in Cardiff, a campus in London and a centre in Birmingham.

The University has a tradition and reputation for high-quality learning extending over the past 200 years. They offer industry-led programmes designed to prepare graduates for employment.

Dual Award Degrees

UM-Wales offer Dual Award programmes in collaboration with UWTSD. Students who successfully complete their programme will receive certification from both UM-Wales and UWTSD.

Dual Award Benefits

- Become more competitive in the job market
- A Dual Award would help you in your application for study in the UK, or at universities using a UK based education system
- Opportunity to study in the UK at UWTSD
- Attend a graduation ceremony in Wales
- Join the UWTSD Alumni Association upon graduation for international networking opportunities

Assurance of Quality

All UM-Wales programmes, including the Dual Award programmes, are approved by the Malaysian Qualifications Agency (MQA). Students can also be assured of the strength and quality of their award, as the courses are structured, monitored and assessed by two different institutions – both UM-Wales and the University of Wales Trinity Saint David.

Study in the

UK

Travel to one of the world's best study abroad destinations for a once-in-a-lifetime experience.

All Dual Award programmes include an option of studying at our partner university, UWTSD in the United Kingdom, for an additional fee. UWTSD has attractive campuses in Carmarthen, Lampeter, and Swansea, which are all situated in beautiful areas of Wales. Your programme selection will determine which campus you will attend.

UM-Wales's programmes are carefully shaped to be aligned with those of UWTSD, allowing for easy academic transition. When you apply to study at UWTSD, our programme coordinators will advise you on which modules you can register for, so that you can transfer credits back to UM-Wales at the end of the course.

Collaborative

Teaching

All undergraduate dual award programmes have modules taught by academics from the University of Wales Trinity Saint David.

This collaborative teaching initiative adds international exposure to the teaching process and brings in-depth expertise to the learning experience. Having complete modules taught by UWTSD lecturers brings a wealth of teaching styles and international experience to the programmes, and students get to compare and contrast local knowledge and international best practices. With a good mix of lecturers, students are able to experience the best of both worlds.

Employable Graduates

UM-Wales has a wide network of industry partnerships and connections that engage with students in a variety of contexts to support our mission to create and deliver employability education. This helps you gain real-world expertise and practical skills that will give you a competitive edge in the workplace.

Industry Advisory Panel

The Industry Advisory Panel (IAP) at UM-Wales was established to provide strategic advice on the university's education and research activities and to promote and strengthen academic-industry collaboration. IAP members include distinguished leaders from private and public sector organisations who are highly valued for their expertise and external industry perspective. The IAP helps form and review programme curriculums to ensure they are tailored towards current and future industry practices.

Industry-Driven Education

We value our strong links with industry, which enables us to support our students' progression in several ways.

- Students are given opportunities to engage with professionals, getting the exposure they need as well as the chance to promote their skills to employers at an early stage
- We hold regular events at the University including workshops, guest lectures, webinars, talk shows and career days, each of which is a stepping stone to a successful career upon graduation
- Students get the chance to embark on industrial-driven assignments to boost their portfolios and prepare them for the increasingly complex demands of the workplace

Internships

Each degree at UM-Wales includes the chance to gain invaluable work experience through an internship programme - designed to develop job-ready graduates.

Internship Benefits:

- Prepares you for the job market through gaining valuable experience in a professional workplace environment
- Opportunity to expand your professional network
- Build confidence, character and soft skills
- Put into practice what you have learned at university
- Chance to bring fresh perspectives and new ideas into a working environment

ACCA Accelerate programme

ACCA is a top choice for many accountancy students worldwide. At UM-Wales, the Accounting programme is accredited and aligned with the ACCA approach. With the exemptions, students are already studying towards the final professional-level exams of becoming an ACCA affiliate. Upon graduation, there will be an opportunity to become a qualified ACCA member in just as little as 36 months. The ACCA Accelerate programme supports students in gaining access to the ACCA Careers Job Board and study resources for free.

CPA Australia Fast Track Pathway

An arrangement between CPA Australia and UM-Wales provides the opportunity for students to complete the CPA Programme examinations in advance via the Fast Track Pathway. Students can register as an Associate Member of CPA Australia and sit for the CPA Programme papers while pursuing their degree at the same time, provided they have completed the required degree subjects in earlier semesters. The remaining CPA Programme papers can be completed after finishing their degree. For more information, contact CPA Australia at: kl@cpaaustralia.com.au.
